A LOVE OF A DONKEY.

Our visiting prospector was not of the romantic class. He was low of stature, rough in dress, smoked a short and very black pipe, and spoke with a strong brogue. He stood beside the neatest little jackass I ever saw—a perfect love of a jackass, to borrow a society phrase, with coquettish ears, soft, dreamy eyes, and fawn-colored hair. The prospector had a grievance.—He was verbally consigning himself to the place Bob Ingersoll pronounces a myth. And all because of the jackass. He swore copiously, not at the animal, but in its behalf. The animal listened patiently, attentively, and with apparent appreciation. When the man paused for want of breath, the animal waved an ear or two, and blinked. He was such a mite of a jackass, and his ears were so long and ponderous that the movement of an ear to and fro was a compliment not to be lightly considered. It transpired that the prospector and his pack animal were just returning from a trip which had been curtailed by the sudden illness of "Moriarity." "Moriarity" was the jack. "Moriarity" had presumably eaten an assayer's outfit. Nothing weaker than acid could have given "Moriarity" such a bad case of colic. At all events, "Moriarity" was a very sick jack. Never was jack nursed more tenderly. Delicate attentions were lavished upon him. He was coddled, and fondled, and a dose of medicine was administered. He voiced no protest. He had no complaint to make. But he could not conceal his anguish.—His broad, intelligent face was wrinkled, his eyes were fireless, and he was unsteady of limb. His sweet patience was inexhaustible. As I gazed on him I was impelled to the reflection that "the shallow murmur, but the deep are dumb." "Moriarity" was finally tucked away in an improvised bed. There are so many ordinary jacks in the world that a superior jack is not very soon forgotten. The warm attachment between "Moriarity" and his owner aroused my curiosity. I had witnessed the noble fortitude of the jack under trying circumstances. Hence a desire to learn something of his history. I asked the prospector a few questions, judiciously prefacing my inquiries with a few complimentary remarks about jackasses in general, and his own in particular. He agreed with me that people could grow very fond of these animals. I do not give his exact words.—His ideas serve the purpose. He proceeded to say that one could not learn to love a jackass unless a close intimacy existed between the two. No man entertained the same feeling for all jacks that he did for one or two, or a select few. Every jack who was not ugly or ill bred was liable to have friends and admirers. Some jacks, like some individuals, never were appreciated. A good deal, of course, depended upon the society in which a jack was thrown. That sick jack, that diminutive creature, climbed up the face of a precipice with a pack, weighing two hundred and fifty pounds, on his back. He was both handsome and good. He never strayed from a camp, and left his owner in the lurch. On the contrary, he always kept a close watch on his master's movements.—"Ivery night," continued the prospector, now thoroughly enthused, "he comes to me siveral times, whin I'm stiaping, and sniffs me blankets to see if I'm gone or no. He's the nicest baste in the worruld, and me frind." The prospector left us, and other subjects came up for discussion.—Still it was a long time before I could dismiss the jack from my mind. I could not help thinking of the place he occupied in his master's affections. I wondered if the feeling was reciprocated between master and jack. And then I mused upon the multitude of jackasses who do not know when they are well off.—W. M. Bunker in Californian for November.

He was a great bore, and was talking to a crowd about the coming local election.—Said he: "Jones is a good man; he is capable, honest, fearless and conscientious. He will make the very kind of an officer we need here in Galveston. He once saved my life from drowning." "Do you really want to see Jones elected?" said a solemn-faced old man. "I do, indeed. I'd do anything to see him elected." "Then never let anybody know he saved your life." The meeting then adjourned.—Galveston News.

An Englishman has invented a new chemical preparation which, when inserted in some part of the coat or waist-coat acts as a life-preserver as soon as it touches the water. It does not alter the appearance or weight of the coat in any way, and a shower of rain has no effect upon it. Immediately upon immersion in the water it expands and is sufficiently bouyant to sustain a person for forty-five or fifty hours.

Prof. Tyndall has a theory regarding hay-fever. He thinks it is brought on by drinking liquor out of a jug kept in the barn.

Paying College Expenses.

Young men who have to work their own way through college receive an extra education, which is often more valuable than the teaching of president and professor. Their wits are sharpened to find out ways of earning money, and of saving it by stern economy.

Lyman Beecher tells an amusing story of his senior year. It was near the close of the year, and when expenses were heavy, his purse was empty, and a note was due that had been given for borrowed money. The butler of the College (Yale) resigned six weeks before Commencement. Beecher, seeing his opportunity, bought out the man's stock for three hundred dollars, and went into the business in dead earnest.

He bought a load of watermelons and canteloupes, and trundled them over the college green in a wheel-barrow. The rich students laughed at him for being his own servant, but bought his melons. He traded in other commodities. Lyman made a capital trader, and was amazed at his own success. He cleared enough in six weeks to pay the butler for his goods, to take up the note for borrowed money, to meet all Commencement expenses, and to graduate with one hundred dollars in his pocket. The same intense earnestness made him successful in the pulpit.

FINE "HAVANA" CIGARS.—The straw paper manufacturers of the Chatham portion of Columbia county, N. Y., have for many years been aware that their product has nearly all gone South, and been used in Cuba as fillers for cigars. None of them manufacture specially with this end in view, although their paper is well adapted for "bogus" cigar making. The paper used for the purpose indicated is of the lightest weight (7 to 7½ lbs.) it is possible to make. There is one mill in the county located at Queechy (town of Canaan) which manufactures the straw paper expressly for wrappers—not fillers. The Queechy Paper Company's paper mill is situated on a creek but a short distance below a lake, and being at the head of the stream, the water is of much greater purity, and hence their ability to produce the desired article of paper. The straw paper used in filling the Havana cigars is saturated with a decoction prepared from the stem and refuse of Havana seed leaf, mingled with which are extracts of liquorice root, senna, etc. The paper is so skillfully stamped to resemble the tobacco leaves, the very veins of the leaf being perfectly imitated, that it can seldom, if ever, be detected from the genuine article.—The Paper World.

A WAITER'S STORY.—"Then there was Charles M. Barris, the man who invented the Black Crook. He was a very mean man to servants, but we won't talk about him now; because he is dead. He and P. T. Barnum used to eat at the same table with Mr. Coleman. Barnum had his baby show then. One day the Enquirer came out with an article blasting the show. It commenced thus: 'Wanted—One thousand American mothers to exhibit their babies at the human cattle-show.' Old Barnum read it at the table. I thought he would be mad, but he only said to Barris, 'That is worth $1,000 to me. If I know who wrote that I would make him a present of $50.' 'Give me the money,' said Barris, 'I am the man.' And so he was, and Barnum paid the money to him the next day."

Japanese paper-air cushions are said to have some advantages over those made of rubber. They may be rolled into a package of smaller dimensions when not in use; they will not stick together as rubber does after it is wet, and for pillows they are better because they have no odor. Their strength is very great; a man weighing 160 pounds may stand upon one without bursting it. They are said to be water-proof, and to make excellent life-preservers.

A lady at White Sulphur Springs, when asked by a reporter for a description of her dress, said: "I don't wear a very handsome costume, but I have the nicest husband and two of the sweetest children in the room." For sound sense and happy fortune she deserves to rank with the mother of the Gracchi.

Senator Burnside tells this story of his colleague, Senator Anthony. They were dining together one day when ham formed one of the dishes. "If ever I turn a farmer," said Mr. Anthony, "I shall raise plenty of calves so that I can get some nice hams like this."

The American colony in Paris is smaller than at any previous time in twenty years. It costs twice as much to live in Paris as in America in the same style. Formerly it cost double Paris prices in America.—There is nothing now cheaper in France except apparel, and only parts of that.

According to the superintendent of a factory in Canada, where paper is manufactured from wood, the paper, so improved has the process become, can be made ready for use six hours after the cutting of the tree.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 11th, 1880.

The thing that most grieves the Democratic party now, next to the certain prospect of defeat, is that the people will not forget the record it has made for itself in the last half a century, and more especially that of the last twenty years. It thinks and it thinks rightly, perhaps, that if its past could be blotted from the memories of the American people, with its new political inventions and methods, it might dominate over the country. But its traditions follow that party like a loathsome pestilence, and beclouds every hope and prospect that prompts and inspires to action. The recorded plunderings of that party so long as it had the power to plunder, now rise up in judgment and confront it to warn against its being entrusted again with the power to exercise its dishonest propensities. Of all the administrations that have marked the history of this government for more than a century the record shows those known as Democratic to have been the most intensely dishonest in collecting and accounting for the revenues of the country. We say such is the recorded history of that party, and the people will not forget it. Then besides being a dishonest party, it has proved itself disloyal to the fundamental principles which underlie the foundations of the republic. It is an enemy to the industrial interests of the American people, simply because it is hostile to the principles and influences of a protective tariff in building up and sustaining American manufactures. In this it is not only an enemy to the investment and development of American capital and enterprise, but it becomes necessarily hostile to American labor, and its full employment. It is a well established and well understood fact, that when our forges, blasts, steam-engines, mills, spinning-jennies, looms, machine shops and the other paraphernalia of manufacturing the needful and convenient articles of life, cease to operate, the working classes become the greatest sufferers by such inaction. They are, as a consequence, turned out of employment, and become idlers for the want of it, and suffers because the rewards active labor brings are withdrawn from them. This is the question in a nutshell. The Democratic party pronounces for "a tariff for revenue only," and hence is an enemy to protecton. For its policy lead directly on in the path to free trade, and any one knows that free trade means the ultimate destruction of American manufactures. It is well known that without a tariff protection, the manufacturing interests of this Republic, could never have attained a condition of prosperity. The fostering care of a tariff for protection, has enabled American manufacturers to compete successively with the unrequitted labor of the Old World, and attain a degree of prosperity which is dispensing its blessings alike to capital and labor.

THE CHINESE

Ten thousand Chinamen are going from Cuba to New Orleans, from which they will go to work on some twenty plantations in that vicinity. If the Southern planters want Chinamen to do their work there is a point in Hancock having nothing to say on the Chinese question, for with Hancock as President, and Congress in the hands of the Southern Brigadiers, we could not expect any relief from the Democratic party regarding the Chinese curse, as long as Chinese labor was profitable to their Southern constituency. If Chinamen are allowed to invade the Southern States we cannot stop their coming to California, as it is impossible to have an anti-Chinese law or treaty for California and one directly opposite for the South. The Democratic party of California is responsible for the great Chinese invasion of California, for the Democratic Legislature of 1853 adopted a preamble and resolutions asking Congress to protect and foster our relations with the Chinese. In fact, the love of the Democracy for the Chinaman was so pointed that "Honest" John Bigler, then our Governor, was called by the Whigs, "Mandarin" Bigler, and "Mandarin" John. And still later in the history of California, when the first Chinese Embassy arrived at San Francisco a grand banquet was given the "distinguished visitors," that sterling Democrat, the late Governor Haight, presiding. The leading Democrats of the State ate and were merry at the festive board, and made speeches highly laudatory of the Chinese. After the fostering care of a Democratic Administration—Federal and State—had caused our fair State to be overrun by the Chinese, this same Democratic party has the cheek to charge the Republican party with being the cause of our Chinese troubles. Let the workingmen of Bodie bear in mind that the Republicans are the true friends of the laboring men, and to that party, alone, can they look to remedy the Chinese evil. If the Southern planters and that the Chinamen can take the place of their former slaves—in some particulars, can any sane man believe that the Democratic party, which is controlled by those planters, would favor any legislation that would be detrimental to their interests, as the stopping of the Chinese, from coming to this country might prove to be? It is in view of this new element of industry in the South that Hancock is so reticent on the Chinese question, which is of so vital importance to the Pacific States.

KEARNEY ON HANCOCK.—At the sand lot in San Francisco on Sunday last Kearney relieved himself as follows: "So long as present conditions exist the Republican party will triumph over the Democratic, because it has the strongest section of the country to appeal to. There is one hope, and but one, for the Democratic party, and only one way to save the country from Republican rule; that is, to pull down the haughty, aristocratic Hancock, and the usurous, bloated bondholder, English, and substitute in their stead our candidates, Weaver and Chambers."

Now comes W. A. Spalding and deposes that Wallace Leach did not, as the latter alleges, inflict personal chastisement upon him, but if Leach still burns with a desire to do so, he (Spalding) is ready to accommodate him. Mr. Leach seems to be having considerable trouble over his personal matters, so much so that he has had but little time to devote to those questions of statesmanship which should properly engage the attention of a candidate for Congress.—Santa Clara Journal.

A WARNING.—The Whig press warned the country against the election of Van Buren, and predicted a financial crash, and it came two months after his inauguration. Every bank suspended specie payments, and bankruptcy stalked throughout the land. In 1840 Van Buren was overwhelmingly defeated. The Republicans sound a like warning, and the people will do well to heed it, and vote for Garfield

Funds have been granted by the Russian Synod to erect a Greek-Russian Church in San Francisco. A priest has been appointed to proceed to California, accompanied by deacons, sub-deacons, acolytes, and a choir. Five thousand roubles have been granted for the preliminary expenses, and the necessary fund for the establishment will be forthcoming when the mission leaves St. Petersburg.

A young man, name unknown, was killed sometime during the past week at Humbug Canyon, near Dutch Flat, by a California lion. His body when found was almost wholly devoured—only the flesh on his feet and head remaining. He had been out hunting, and it is supposed that the animal sprang upon him from some place of concealment.

In one week from Tuesday next the "Superb" will be allowed to take a "rest," and have to bother himself about civil affairs no longer. That "local" matter, that "was once spoken of in his place," and the flopping of the N. Y. Sun will almost make him crazy.

Wade Hampton has driven another nail in the Democratic coffin by sending Secretary Sherman a challenge; and Sherman has clinched the nail with a manly letter that contained truths that do not set well on the Democratic stomach.

A new route to the East via the Southern Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroads will be opened on or about the 1st of January next. This will be the favorite route in the Winter season.

The loyal citizens of the United States do not object to treating reformed rebels as prodigal sons, but they object to having those prodigal sons run the house.—Sacramento Bee.

The said action is brought to obtain judgment of this Court, that each of the Defendants herein named are entitled to purchase from the State of California that certain tract or parcel of land described in Plaintiff's complaint as the S. ½ of the N. E. ¼, and the N. ½ of the S. E. ¼ of Section 16, T. 2, N. R. 25 E., Mt. Diablo Base and Meredian, and situate in Mono County. That said Defendant's application therefor was without authority of law and void. That Plaintiff is entitled to purchase from the State of California the land described in his said application. That Plaintiff is entitled to have his said application approved by the State Surveyor General, and upon making payment thereon to the Treasurer of Mono County, as required by law, shall be entitled to receive from the Register of the State Land Office a certificate of purchase for said land, and for all costs of this suit, and for such other and further relief as this Court may deem meet and just. All of which will more fully appear on reference to the complaint on file herein, a copy of which said complaint accompanies this summons, and to which you are referred.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief therein demanded.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court, in and for the [L.S.] said County of Mono, State of California, this 21st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A REPUBLICAN MEETING.—On Monday evening last the Republicans of Bodie had another grand rally and torchlight procession. The procession was the largest and most imposing ever witnessed in this city, and the meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic one that has been held here during the campaign. The meeting was addressed by J. W. Brier, of San Francisco, who spoke about an hour, giving a brief and truthful history of the rise and progress of the Democratic party, and proving it to be non-progressive and inimical to the best interests of the country and the laboring classes. Mr. Brier is a forcible and eloquent speaker, and was frequently applauded. The Glee Club followed with a stirring song, after which ex-Senator Stewart was called for. The Senator opened his speech by propounding a very hard conundrum, "What is the use of the Democratic party?" He gave the Democracy some sledge-hammer blows, and made a "telling speech," and one that was well received and kept his audience together till a late hour, when the meeting adjourned with cheers for Garfield, Wasson, Indiana, and Ohio. On Tuesday Mr. Brier went to Bridgeport under escort of Bridgeporters and Bodieites, where he spoke to the largest meeting ever held in that town.

COMING OVER.—As election day approaches many Mono Democrats are leaving the sinking ship of their party and finding refuge in the Republican ark of safety. The most prominent one is Jesse N. Summers, one of the oldest residents of this section and the wealthiest man in Mono county. Mr. Summers is a business man, and is well satisfied that the interests of the country demand a continuance of Republican rule, as the country was never in a more prosperous condition, and a change of administration would be disastrous. In the Republican procession on Monday last one of the transparencies was borne by a prominent Democrat who has seen the error of his ways. Come, ye Democrats, and join the patriot band, and get on the winning side!

NEW GOODS.—Our pioneer Bodie merchant, Silas B. Smith, has removed the large stock from the upper to his old stand on the corner of Main street and Standard [illegible] where he still holds the Fort with a full stock of dry goods for the latest and fashionable clothing for the men. Old friends, when visiting Bodie, should call and see this fine stock.

CLOSED DOWN.—The Nevada Freighting Company has given notice that it has gone out of business. Freighting between here and Carson will now be done by transient teams. As soon as the railroad is finished, there will be but about 36 miles of wheeling between here and Hawthorne—the new railroad town at Walker Lake.

A SUCCESS.—The concert given on Thursday evening for the purpose of paying off the indebtedness on the Methodist parsonage was largely attended, and a success. We have not learned how much was realized, but probably all that was needed to pay the debt.

FINE POULTRY.—E. F. Gibson, of the Bodie Fruit Market, just above the Bodie Daily Office, keeps a fine stock of turkeys, chickens, ducks and fresh fish. He has also cranberries, sweet potatoes, and vegetables of all kinds; also fresh fruits. Orders from Bridgeport promptly attended to.

CLEAN UP!—Main street is everything but cleanly, but it could be made quite respectable in half an hour, if our store and saloon keepers would sweep up the rubbish in front of their doors and burn it. It is easy to have clean streets if we so desire.

CAMP FIRE.—Agreeably with orders from general headquarters the Bodie Boys in Blue will enjoy a camp fire, with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging on the evening of the 30th—next Saturday night.

TO MAMMOTH.—Judge Wiggin has taken a trip to Benton and Mammoth. He has hosts of friends in that part of the county who will see him safely over the course on the 2d of November.

On the morning of the 12th inst., the New York Sun, speaking of Indiana and Ohio, said: "If both those States go for the Rebublicans, Garfield will be elected in November." And this seems to be the size of it.

A four-year-old dwarf orange tree at Santa Barbara, the topmost twig of which is 45 inches in height by actual measurement, contains by actual count 127 oranges.

A terrible snow-storm occurred in the province of Buenos Ayres on the 18th of September, and it is estimated that 700,000 cattle, 500,000 sheep and 250,000 horses perished.

It is said that Russia has ordered the commander of the Pacific squadron to survey of the entire coast of Corea as soon as possible.

Seven hundred Chinamen sailed from San Francisco on Tuesday on the City of Peking for China.

New York Tribune: Nine Southern Democratic Governors come to the front with statements that the South does not want its claims paid. Hancock says no such claim will ever be made. Why did seventy Democratic members of Congress introduce bills to facilitate the payment of claims? Why did forty-four Confederates in the House and twelve Border Democrats vote against an amendment making such payment impossible? Why did only one Confederate vote in favor of the amendment? Why did Hancock frame his letter on the subject so as to pledge himself against the payment of only $500,000 worth of such claims, leaving him entirely unpledged against nearly $1,000,000,000 of others which have already been filed? Finally, why has the Democratic party in Congress for five years refused to put itself on record against all claims by legislation which would make their payment forever impossible?

We are pleased to notice that the people of Mono and Inyo counties are working for the reelection of Hon. Joseph Wasson to the Assembly. Mr. Wasson was one of the few members of the last Assembly who succeeded with measures favorable to the mining interest. His work was well and thoroughly done and is now bearing its fruits. The California State Mining Bureau, his pet project created in spite of the determined opposition of the Sand-lot element, is to-day regarded as one of the most useful and promising institutions in the State. At the coming session of the Legislature Mr. Wasson will probably have enough influence to carry through other and equally beneficial measures. He is the very best man that Mono and Inyo could possibly have nominated and we trust that he will receive an immense majority. His election is a foregone conclusion.—S. F. Stock Report.

The Democrats of Virginia are much worried since the Republicans began an active campaign in that State.

Republican Meeting.

On Tuesday evening a grand Republican meeting was held to celebrate the Republican victories in Indiana and Ohio, and listen to an address from J. W. Brier, of Oakland and Hon. ex-Senator Wm. M. Stewart. Under the management of Frank Vile, Marshal, a torchlight procession paraded the principal streets; salutes were fired and six huge bonfires blazed. The meeting was called to order by R. M. Folger, of the Central Committee, and, on motion of Hon. Judge Wiggin the following officers were elected: George N. Whitman, President; A. H. Allen, M. M. Waltze, N. B. Hunnewill, G. B. Day, Sidney Hunton, W. T. Elliott, H. L. Leavitt, W. A. Loose, P. B. Taylor, J. A. Barnes, J. W. Stewart and Thomas Kirkwood, Vice Presidents; J. F. Byrne, Secretary. After a few appropriate remarks from the President, and a song by the Bodie Glee Club, J. W. Brier addressed the meeting about an hour. It was eloquently delivered and to the point. Ex-Senator Stewart delivered one of his peculiarly forcible, soul-telling speeches. Both gentlemen were frequently applauded. The Bodie Glee Club favored the meeting with a number of songs, all of which were well rendered. A large delegation from Bodie was present.

This was the first demonstration of the kind in the history of Bridgeport and on the 2d of November the result will be a handsome majority for Garfield and Arthur. A portion of the torchlight procession tramped till broad daylight—the Bodie delegation being the recipients of the undivided attention of the good people of the Capital, irrespective of party.

GREAT REGISTER.—The following explains itself.

BRIDGEPORT, Oct. 5, 1880.

A. L. HART Esq., Attorney General, SACRAMENTO.

DEAR SIR:—

If you will allow me to intrude upon your valuable time, I would like a few questions of importance answered, viz:

1—When does the Great Register of this county for voting purposes become closed for the coming election?

2—Can a person register after October 4th, 1880, to vote at coming election?

3—If so, can I issue a supplement to the Great Register?

4—If so, can a person vote on certificate if registered after supplement is issued?

An early answer will oblige

Yours, etc.,
BEN. H. MILLER,
County Clerk.

In reply, the Attorney General quotes Section 1113, of Political Code, and says:

"There is no provision for making a supplement, nor for issuing certificates of registration to electors to entitle them to vote. Registration closes this year on the first Monday in October."

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, OCTOBER, 23, 1880.

MIRTH AT HOME.—A merry heart doeth good like medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the bones, declare the wisest men. A swift appreciation of the humorous is the happy birthright of some people, but there are those who never see a joke quickly, and cannot comprehend why it makes others laugh even after it has been duly explained. If, as the proverb says, laughter is medicinal, they are much to be pitied.—They are not cushioned against the sharp corners and hard knocks of life. There is a coarse wit that is allied to buffoonery and may descend to indecency, and the less we have of that the better. The brightness and buoyancy which makes the day cheerful, which lifts the harried and the ill from depression, and which imparts courage when disaster seems imminent, are priceless gifts. The merry making the best of things, seeing the silver edge along the thickening clouds, remember how much worse fortune might have befallen, and being cheery when others are discouraged, how noble are these qualities when put in practice, and how brave they may be. I agree, in a measure with the brilliant French woman who said that "joyousness of spirit is an index of its power," words true for all time. It should be a matter of conscience with us to maintain serenity of outward appearance at all times.

It was a little three-year-old who, when a carpenter had been called in to ease the doors, ran in to an adjoining room to tell her mother that he was "taking the skin off the doors."

A dog will stick by a man, no matter how poor a man may have become, and no matter if everybody else has forsaken him.—But perhaps the dog doesn't know any better.

An exchange notes that the beauty of the Parisian police service lies in the fact that it allows a man to condemn himself a miserable sinner without feeling that he is also in the confession.

Some men could not get along without their nay tobacco, and England feels that she could not exist without her navy to back her, too.

"A Roman lictor," said Bates, whose historical information comes by detail; "a Roman lictor! Well, I s'pose she deserved it. No one but the Roman knows."

It was a Windham wife, who, when her husband was brought home intoxicated, thanked God he was not a blood relation.

Phosphorescent writing-paper is a late novelty. Writing done upon it can be easily read in the dark.

A new fashionable dance is called the "Canadian lope."

Little gold pigs now dangle from finger-rings.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER soothes, relieves almost at once and cures where other plasters fail even to relieve. It contains greater & more powerful pain relieving, strengthening and curative properties than the common porous plaster, and is far superior to liniments and the so-called electrical appliances. It is specially recommended for the above ailments, also for Spinal and Kidney Complaints, Pleurisy, Sciatica and all local Aches and Pains. When suffering you will do well to take even a little pains to procure this article. Do not allow any other plaster to be substituted for it. Sold by all Druggists.
